

Willie Nelson man of the hour on this week's music scene

Willie Nelson sings what a "Good Hearted Woman," but I think some should sing one to him that being a "good hearted man." Willie, who has been on the road almost constantly for the past few months, comes home to Austin to do two performances, all benefit, within a week.

He'll be at Municipal Auditorium Saturday night for the Austin Friends of the Austin Firemen's Association, to San Marcos Thursday for a benefit to help defray some of Jean DeMaine's medical expenses, and back in Austin a week from Saturday for a street dance for the Austin Symphony Orchestra Society.

With Willie Saturday night will be Charlie Walker plus the Blue Belles. Last time Charlie was here he broke my heart when he told me he no longer remembered the words to "Tell Her Lies and Fond Her Candy," a long time ago you remembers his great country classic "Punk Me Up On Your Way Down," and probably some of his other hits like "One After 909," "Honky Tonks" and "Little Ole Me Diddler Me."

Also the show will give Auntie's a chance to get acquainted with the Blue Belles, the all-woman country band which moved here from Nashville several months ago.

FRIDAY NIGHT They Douglas and the Strippers, always popular in Austin, are at the Silver Dollar, and Leon Rausch and the Cowtowners come down from Fort Worth to appear at the Broken Spoke.

Rausch was here before, and he's back again. He's a first major hit, but you remember his great country classic "Punk Me Up On Your Way Down," and probably some of his other hits like "One After 909," "Honky Tonks" and "Little Ole Me Diddler Me."

Also the show will give Auntie's a chance to get acquainted with the Blue Belles, the all-woman country band which moved here from Nashville several months ago.

IN SAN MARCOS Thursday night Willie will be joined at the Civic Center by the Jimmy Heap Show with Ken Lingo, Kent Frisley and the High Cotton Express, the Country Edition with Sammie and Sammy Aldred.

The beneficiary, Jean DeMaine, certainly one of the most talented of all Austin musicians, is making a miraculous recovery from a near-fatal motorcycle accident in Nashville last summer. Jean, whose real name is Fred Friele, in a sense is going home to San Marcos, where he captained the Southwest Texas State football team here in 1962. One ticket at $5 are on sale in Austin at the Silver Dollar, Inner Sanctum, "Discovery Records, and all of the House of Blues stores.

Willie's street dance a week from Saturday is sponsored by the Women's Symphony League and will be held in the new park in the area of Trinity and 17th streets. Three bands will perform, beginning at 6
