Townes Van Zandt's manager Lee Olson says the singer/songwriter was refused entry into Canada because of a "traffic violation in Texas 25 years ago that was never cleared up."

Olson gave no details.

Van Zandt was scheduled to perform Monday night with fellow Texan Guy Clark at the Vancouver East Cultural Centre.

Immigration officers at the airport told him to apply for entry in Seattle, but Canadian consular officials there turned him down.

Immigration officials won't comment.
